Jason,

It was so good to be there today man. You are really a special person.

It surely goes beyond cars. I learned a lot today. Finding that part you needed really put a smile on my face. All the religion in the world cannot replace giving and receiving as you are doing. - Your place is magic, what can I say?

It reflects its owners.

It is really a privilege to even step foot in your place. You are a genius.

I hope you will let me take you to lunch on Monday or whatever day works for you.

My pleasure really. Headed south and took a right down Sterling. There are all those stores and Home Depot. That retro diner looked interesting.

Seems to fit the part. - ))

Have a great weekend. Im dreaming of the Mercedes even though I am awake. lol

Best,

Laurence
